"This is a contest of profound interest. It is impossible to touch now on all the issues of the campaign. We are threatened with a great trust evil, York State Democracy, has learned that Hill, his arch enemy, expressed the aforesaid opinion on the result of the all threelection, and is thinking of taking him publicly to task about it. It is said that he may openly access the Benator of treachery to Bryan for the purpose, primarily, of discrediting him with his party in the Empire State.

Hill has been a thorn in Conter's side for many years. He is the mader of a faction which disputes the Fagnasy been a distatorably in New Yerk Democratic philifon's axairs. He is ambitious for future public honors, and may be a candidate for the Presidential nomination in 1904. It is a struggle to the death between the two men, and Croker realises that if he can prove Hill guilty of party treason this year he will have delivered his enemy a hard blow, perhaps in the interest of party harmony until November 8. Croker may decide not to assail him at this period of the campaign, but just now, at any rate, he has a mind to do it, and may break out in spite of wise counsel.

position. The Ministerialists have gained five more seats than their opponents.

Considerable adverse comment, Consorvative as well as Liberal, has been caused by the declaration attributed to Chamberiain in a recent speech. "A seat lost to the government is a seat sold to the Boers."

Chamberiain writes to the Daily Mail this morning repudiating the statement and explaining that what he said was a quotation from the Mayor of Mafeking, "A seat lost to the government, is a seat gained by the Boers."

The Daily Mail, commenting editoricity upon Chamberiain's communication, still insists that he went too far in view of the fact that "quite a large number of Liberals have consistently supported the government's South African policy."

The paper also declares that "Mr. Chamberiain's tactics will not assist him in his struggle for the premiership, and will arouse uneasiness as to his qualifications for the Foreign Office."

These officials, Mr. Conger believes, should be included with Prince Tuan and others in any punishments which are to be inflicted upon these who took a prominent part in the Peking outrages. It is not unlikely that the position of this government in regard to the punishment of these officials will be stated in the reply to the French note.

Miss Murdock Tells of the Ter-Desert of Gobi.

IBY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.1 NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Miss Virginia C. Murdock, M.D., who has just arrived from China, has given an account of the movements of the band of missionaries driven across the desert of Gobl. Said Miss Murdock:

"Outside of my vacations I have been in China for fifteen years. I have worked entirely through the outer edges of the empire where the inhabitants have become accustomed to the advantages of western civilization and ideas, and in my work I had no trouble until this Boxer movement.

"I was stationed at Kaigan, which is at one of the gates of the great Chinese wall, about fourteen miles from Peking. I was in Peking June 6 with Mr. Roberts, who was at the head of the Kaigan mission. We received word that the Boxers were becoming active and were told that the best move we could make was to get to our own territory.

"We left Peking on the morning of June 8, forcing our way through howling mobs. There were twenty-three of us in the party when we left Harahoso and struck out over the desert—ten men. seven women and six children, the children all very young, the progeny of the Swedish missionaries. We had twenty camels, nineteen horses and six camel carts. To take care of the camels we had seven Mongol camel drivers who were afraid of their lives every minute. We were compelled to keep continual watch on them to insure that they would not desert.

I had charge of the little one and tried my best to save it, but the only milk we could get was milk bought from the Mongol women, and it was not nourishing. The Mongol women never wash the utensils in which they keep their food.

"The little one died, but we kept the body and a little grave in the beautiful cemetery in Klachta. Siberia, marks the resting place of this infant victim of the rage of the Boxers.

"We reached Woga, 710 miles from our starting point, July 20, and there we rested until August 3, when we started for Klachta, in Siberia. We arrived there on August 13, and as soon as we had disposed of our caravan we started across Siberia on the new rail-way."

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—A dispatch to says that four persons, one of them a lasted all last night.

The rioting started in a cafe when a Federals from Arroyo hastened to reinforce the Federals in Guayama and a bloody street fight followed. The

The parties are about equality divided

Beresford's task was to coal his fleet, get out of the harbor and attack Fisher. It should be remembered that Lord Charles has never been an entusiast on the subject of the torpedo boat. In fact, he has repeatedly decreed its efficiency as an offensive craft. thustast on the subject of the torpedo boat. In fact, he has repeatedly decried its efficiency as an offensive craft. It is only a few years ago that, speaking in the House of Commons on a naval appropriation bill, he asked the admirality to furnish an old warship armed under his directions, of which he would take command with a volunteer crew raised by himself and defend it successfully against the attacks of any number of torpedo boats discharging real torpedoes. He said he would sink every one of the little craft. His task at Mytilone was therefore precisely to his liking.

By putting lights on launches so as to make them resemble ships in the darkness he decoyed the torpedo boats away on a false trail, and, with every light on his own warship out, he slipped away to sea, with not a vessel touched. Having done this he misled Fisher's scouts by false signals and caught the hostife fleet entirely unprepared off the Lemnos.

Fisher's squadron was steaming in parallel columns, and Beresford maneuvered his ships so skilfully that the admiral had no opportunity to change his formation or to do anything but clear decks for instant action. Beresford ran his ships in single, right in between the lines, enabling him to fight with both broadsides, while each of Fisher's vessels could use but one.

The victory was so complete and overwhelming that the umpire awarded it on the spot to the dashing hero of the Alexandria bombardment, who ran the Condor in right under the guns of the Egyptian fort and battered it oatoms at close range. Beresford's daring seamanship and resourceful tricks in these maneuvers are a startling contrast to the old methods, and stamp him as the cleverest commander in the Brittsh navy.

[THE COAL STRIKE.] LAST CHANCE FOR MINERS

Operators Will Make No Further Offers.

Labor Leaders Not Sure of a Settlement.

Scranton Prepared for the Big Demonstration-Mitchell Addresses Strikers.

IST THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
SCRANTON (Pa.,) Oct. 2.—Interviews with prominent coal operators here to-day elicited a uniform declaration that no further concessions or modifications of the present offer will be made, and that the miners must take it or leave it just as it stands.

They say it is plain and simple, and contains all they can or will concede. The 10 per cent increase means that every man in the anthracite mines is to have $1.10 for the work for which is formerly received $1, the operators say. The powder item is simply a matter of book-keeping. Instead of giving the miners 10 per cent. increase flat, they formerly received $1, the operators say. The powder item is simply a matter of book-keeping. Instead of giving the miners 10 per cent. Increase flat, they will have their credit side increased say 3 per cent., and from their debit side will be subtracted 7 per cent., or whatever percentage of expense it is found the difference in the cost of their powder amounts to. The purpose is simply to put an end to the howling about the powder being sold at exorbitant prices. Powder is the basis of the wage scale, it is explained, and to decrease its cost is to increase the wages. In this region a decrease of $1.25 in a keg of powder means a 7 per cent. decrease in the miner's expenses. Therefore when he has expenses reduced 7 per cent., he has his wages increased a like amount. The other 3 per cent. will be made up by increasing the allowance per car for cutting and loading.

Where a miner gets $1 a car he will, under the new scale, get $1.03.1-3 a car. His net earnings will be the same whether he gets the increase flat or by figuring on the decrease in powder.

The fact that coal is high and that the demands of individual operators for better allowance will keep it high is suggested as a reason why those working under the sliding scale should not worry about being juggled out of their increase. The further fact that the operators do not want strikes and that they realize that the 'United Mine Workers' organization is here to stay, will, it is pointed out, have a tendency to prevent any double dealing on the part of the operators, even if they were inclined to do a thing of this kind.

All arrangements for tomorrow's big parade and mass meeting are now complete. Fully 20,000 will be in the parade, and it is estimated that 50,000 persons will come here tomorrow and will remain here until after the convention, and possibly until the strike is settled.

not speak so hopefully tonight of a settlement of the strike by the Scranton at work for a while and the market is pretty well supplied the operators may

Californians Have a Big Market in Europe.

W. H. Mills Reports on Paris Observations.

Opening of the Colville Indian Reservation-Trial of the Wisconsin.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.) SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—In the form of a preliminary report concerning his observations at the Paris Exposition, W. H. Mills today gave practical advice to the State Board of Trade. He said that the proper things for Californians to do were to send fruit pulp abroad, for which there is a practically unlimited market in Europe; devote attention to the forcing of fruits for winter use in the New York market; send to the Pan-Ameri-York market; send to the Pan-American exhibition to be held at Buffalo corps of from ten to twenty men competent to answer all questions concerning the resources, climate and population of California.

Concerning the forcing of fruits for the New York winter market, Mr. Mills said that Europeans were making large money marketing winter-grown fruits in New York, and in his opinion California could get that trade. In onplace abroad he saw a fruit-forcing plant, the dimensions of which were 200 x15 feet. Yet the money value of the product in the market equaled the seling value of fifty acres of grapes in California. Forced peaches bring $2 each in Paris in winter, and bunches of grapes sell for $1.50 each. The climate is such that fires have to be used six months in the year, whereas in California fruit will ripen under glass whenever the sun shines.

VANCOUVER (B. C.,) Oct. 2.—Labor men are suggesting an ingenious method borrowed from the British home legislation, of diminishing the employment of Chinese and Japanese home legislation, of diminishing the employment of Chinese and Japanese domestic servants—all males—in British Columbia. They propose that strong pressure be brought to bear upon the provincial government and endeavoy to cause the statutory imposition of a heavy tax on male domestic servants, most of whom are Mongols.

FACULTY COMMITTEES REPORT.
(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—At a conference representing the faculty committees on athletics for the principal American universities which was held at Brown University, Providence, R. I., on February 18, 198, a subcommittee was appointed to investigate the entire matter of intercollegiate competitions in all its phases and to prepare a report upon the same. The final report of the committee has been much delayed, and has just been made public.

The report states that at present athletic sports occupy a disproportionate amount of attention in many of our universities, colleges and schools, and the main end of all rules must be to prevent outdoor sports and physical exercises from interfering with the mental and moral attainments. It is obvious that all colleges and universities should have requirements—as to the scholarships of their teams, Everymember should be in good standing. No student should be permitted to make athletics the principal occupation of his college life.

John Rickett of Knox county again told his story about Youtsey telling him in the agricultural office that the only way to settle the contest was to put Goebel out of the way; that he (Youtsey) had $100 in his own money to help put him out of the way, and a dosen others would help with like amounts; that Goebel could be killed from the executive building, and the man who fired the shot could escape through the basement; that his (Youtsey's) by depended upon this contest, and he wanted it settled some way.

Barnes repeated the testimony given in the Powers trial about Youtsey's movements on the day of the assassination. According to this story, Youtsey posted men in the hallway of the executive building, and he told them something would hapen, and a man would come down the stairway, when they would go out together. Witness did not remain, but went across the street when the shots were fired.

When Col. Nelson cross-examined him, he said he did not know the name of a single one of the men who went with him and Youtsey to the executive building, but he thought they were from Whiteley, Harlan and Bell counties.

MINERS MEET.

nounced at the Symposium of the Southwest Miners' Association.

The quarterly meeting of the Southwest Miners' Association was held last night in their rooms over the German-American Savings Bank, corner First and Main streets, when the question of miners versus scrippers was considered. The meeting was not as largely attended as was hoped, on account of the absence from the city of many of the action of the Hon. Binger Hermann, Commitzed to take the children to see the circus.

A resolution introduced by T. R. Owen, Esq., was passed, approving the action of the Hon. Binger Hermann, Commizsioner of the United States Land Office, for his recommendations and efforts in behalf of the miners, and requesting him to use his influence with Congress in having the act of that body relative to the entry and patenting of I lands containing petroleum and other mineral oils under the placer mining laws of the United States, which act was approved February 11. 187, amended to conform with his suggestions of April 3, 1900, as contained in his last annual report.

The Committee on Mineral Lands presented a report of a similar nature, which was adopted.

A motion was made by ex-Gov. J. J. Gosper and passed by the association, thanking Congressman Waters for his earnest work in Congress in behalf of the minera, and the secretary was instructed to notify him of the action.

E. J. Livernash was present, by invitation, and addressed the members on the alleged frauds perpetrated by scrippost in locating on oil lands, and expressed the opinion that unless the association took prompt and vigorous steps to assist the United States District Attorney in presenting proper evidence before the Federal Grand Jury, location to the prompt and vigorous steps to assist the United States District Attorney in presenting proper ev

After some discussion of the subject, a committee of five was appointed to look into the matter, consisting of Edgar Moore, chairman; ex-Gov. J. J. Gosper, Dr. Bryant, T. R. Owen, Esq., and George N. Nolan, secretary of the association.

Mrs. Jas. Barton of Toronte, Canada, writes: "For eighteen months I suffered from what I supposed was bladder and kidney trouble, and took medicine from three different doctors, without any sign of cure. I felt so ill at last I was hardly able to do my work.

"I thought I would try a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and see if they would make me feel better, never really thinking I had dyspepsia, but after only three or four tablets had been taken all the acid trouble disappeared and then I discovered I had had acid dyspepsia, while the doctors had been treating me for kidney and bladder trouble and one of them treated me for rheumatism.

"My digestion is fine, my complexion clear and I am able to do my work and low spirits are unknown to me.

"I am so thankful for finding a cure so good and so pleasant to take as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I am surprised at the change they have made in me."

All druggists sell and recommend Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they contain only the simple natural digestives, and taken after meals prevent acidity and cause prompt digestion and assimilation of food.

Physicians everywhere indorse them because they are as safe for the child as for the adult; they are invaluable for sour stomach, nervous dyspepsia, heartburn, gas on stomach and bowels and every form of stomach derangement.

"I intend to fight again and I want Jeffries as my next opponent. Jeffries poses as a champion and there is no reason why he should not fight to defend his title.

Otherwise, a practical nation like ours would long ago have seen the absurdity of selecting a Mayor, or Street Superintendent, or City As-sessor, or City Engineer, because of his views on the question of the currency, or territorial expansion, or free trade. NEXCUSABLE MISREPRESENTA-

In heated political campaigns we ex pect a certain amount of exaggeration on the part of public speakers. The truth is not adhered to so closely as could be wished, even by some of the best of political orators. By common ent, some latitude is allowed within which the pent-up feelings of statesmen, best upon the common task of "saving the country," may find vent. The quadrennial national campaign a sort of political safety-valve, and a general blowing off of steam is expected on these occasions. But there is a limit, even to the latitude allowable to campaign statesmen; and to exceed this limit is to exceed the bounds of reason, of decency and of ommon sense. Furthermore, to pass this rational limit is to injure the very cause which it is sought to benefit. The American people are not a nation of idiots nor of blind fanatics. They believe in justice, in fair play and in the truth. They are quick to detect falsesood; and while they may tolerate sophistry if it agree with their political faith, and may even excuse falsehoo deceived by these subterfuges to onethough of trifling importance as com-pared with those of the community at large, are yet of more direct interest to half the extent that politicians believe them to be. Many a voter has been driven to vote for the opponents of his epresentations of speakers and writers of his own political faith.

The conscientious voter wants only the truth, and will resent attempts to every voter to act solely upon the dic-tates of his conscience and his judg-ment, when he enters the voting booth to perform his duty as a citizen. This of the voter is the source of many sur often bring about, unwittingly, their own defeat, or the defeat of their party, hrough misrepresentation, sophistry and rank mendacity, which disgust even their would-be adherents to such an extent as to drive them into the ranks of ment that we have so long persisted in this practice, with Chinese-like reverence for what has been. The firm or corporation which should adopt such a method of selecting its employée in private life would be considered crasy and on the straight road to the bankruptcy court. Yet the government of a municipality is simply a business enterprise on a large scale.

Much good has been accomplished in the line of municipal referm during the Mr. Bryan spoke at Salem, Ill., his boyhood's home, on Monday. "I hardly feel like making a political speech here," said Bryan, in prefacing his re-marks, "for this is a sacred spot to me. Here my parents are buried, and here I learned the precepts which I have tried to follow." Mr. Bryan soon warmed to his theme, and launched into a political harangue which for rank demagogy mendacity and misrepresentation ever han seldom equaled. Among other things he said:

things he said:

"It the election were held today there is no doubt we would have a majority in the electoral college and on the popular vote. But the Republican managers are now collecting from the monopolies a large campaign fund. They will buy every vote that can be bought. They will coerce every vote that can be coerced. They will intimidate every laboring man who can be intimidated. They will bribe every election judge that can be bribed. They will corrupt every count that can be corrupted. I don't understand how it is possible for the plain, every-day Republican to close his eyes to what is going on when he knows that if he aids these influences to carry the election this time, erament and its oetcement, water cov-ered thirty-nine pages. Three years later a bibliography prepared along the same lines required 224 pages, and in the next edition of this list 500 pages will be required to accommodate the references. At present, also, there are ne knows that if he aids these influ-ences to carry the election this time, the same means can be employed to carry other elections when those who are supporting the Republican ticket today will be opposed to the Republican ticket."

We are not specifically informed as to the particular kind of precepts which Mr. Bryan learned at Salem, Ill., during may judge from the above utterance, either the precepts were bad, or he has are not permanent. The disclosure of some particularly raw work on part of the local politicians will, from time to time, arouse good citizens to action. There is great enthusiasm for a while, but it seldom lasts lone, and affairs then the local politicians will be action. There is great enthusiasm for a while, but it seldom lasts lone, and affairs then the local politicians will be possessed of or-enough that the statements contained in channel. This is not the way to accom-plish any important work. Eternal vig-ilance is the price of reform as well as the above quotation are false. He should also have the good sense to perceive of liberty. On this subject Bradstreet's, in the article above referred to, makes the following sensible remarks:

"The tendency is by all means one to be encouraged. Active interest in local affairs and actual investigation into and supervision of the management of them furnish the best safeguard against abuse. There are one or two considerations, however, which seem to be suggested by the history of efforts at municipal reform in the past. One is that too much must not be expected at once. Abuses are not growths of a day, and they are not to be eradicated in a day. In the course of their growth interests become connected with them, and the removal of abuses coupled with an interest must of necessity be a slow process. This seems to involve in a way the further consideration that little permanent benefit can be attained as the result of sporadic or occasional action. An improvement of the condition of the country's municipalities which is to produce far-reaching effects must be the result of carefully considered action continued over a long period of time, and those who expect to see important ameliorations follow their activity must not weary of welldoing, but must labor 'until the night cometh."

In the coming municipal campaign citizens of Los Angeles will be afforded an opportunity of testing a new method of selecting city officials which promises great things. An outline of the plan has already been published in The Times. Its success or failure depends largely upon the interest that may be manifested in it by the voters. An intelligent the great body of voters in the United States. Mr. Bryan says in effect that the American voters are a venal and purchasable lot, whose ballots are at willing to pay the price. This is a mos outrageous falsehood, as every man of sense knows. The insult, mcreever, is directed chiefly against his own supporters, since it is their ballots which if his statements were true, would be

William J. Bryan, candidate for the Presidency, ought to hang his head in shame for having given utterance to statements so outrageously false and libelous as those above quoted. When it is remembered that in the States give their electoral vote to Bryan at least half of the citizens entitled to disfranchised by laws ingeniously depresumption of Bryan becomes ever more apparent. It is time to call a halt in such methods of campaigning. If Mr. Bryan were wise he would have checked himself be-fore the silly words above quoted were candidacy, and they ought to injure it. Every man, save the blind and unreasthe success of latture depends largely upon the interest that may be manifested in it by the voters. An intelligent and enterprising population like that of Los Angeles should set an example to the country of practical, up-to-date city oning bigot, knows them to be false; and not only false, but a libel upon the American people. Mr. Bryan's virulent charges sound very much more like the impotent and desperate cry of a candi-date who is defeated in advance of the election, and who knows that his cause is hopeless, than the deliberate statement of a responsible citizen. In any event, the vile charges which he makes are unprovable, untrue and unworthy of refutation.

Meeting of Presbyterian Laity Association.

Attendance Small Because o Other Attractions-Social and Luncheon.

The fourth convention of the Precyterian Laity Association of Souther California met in the Third Presbyte byterian Lairy Association of southers. California met in the Third Presbyterian Church, corner of Hill and Sixteenth streets, in this city, yesterday afternoon, and held what might be called a continuous service until the adjournment, about 9 o'clock last evening. The attendance was quits meager, owing to a number of unavoidable circumstances, and one of the principal subjects outlined for a paper by Judge Wells of Santa Monica, on "The Loyal Woman in Municipal Affairs," which was to have been followed by a discussion led by Mrs. C. E. Walker of Long Beach, was omitted owing to the absence of the two principals.

The services throughout were of a "loyal" nature, and commenced with devotional exercises led by George A. Howard, consisting of song and prayer and a Bible reading.

Dr. O. S. Barnum assumed the chairmanship of the meeting as moderator,

Dr. O. S. Barnum assumed the chairmanship of the meeting as moderator, and after a prayer by Elder Duncan, introductory remarks by the moderator and the singing of "I Love to Tell the Story," by the congregation, Rev. H. P. Wilbur delivered an address upon the subject of "Lovality to Church Relations," in place of W. B. Matthews, who was on the programme. The speaker was of the impression that pleasant days outside, withother attractions such as were near at hand yesterday, were responsible in a great many agreeable to attend more numerously. He spoke of the relation to the church in several aspects, among which were the relations to the pastor and the so-clal relation, and the importance of the relations between the church and the people, saying: "The church after all is a school and the pastor is the teaches. People need instruction in the ways of life. The idea of a church first, last and all the time is not as a place of amusement, but as a place of instruction. It is the duty of the people to help the minister to help them. Our relation to God needs strengthening. We are creatures of habit on Sunday as well as on other days. We have got to have the devotional element. A more powerful element than applause is fixed attention."

After the singing of "The River of Tears" by George Rogers, with Miss Young as planist, a discussion of the paper followed, participated in by Elder Duncan, Rev. J. N. Boyd, Prof. J. M. Goypar and S. H. McClung.

POLITICAL DUTY.

The second paper of the afternoon was by Prof. Melville McPherson on the subject, "The Loyal Christian in Political Affairs." The speaker contended that it was the duty of every Christian citizen to mingle in political affairs, stating that it was unfortunate that we have come to consider politics a disreputable business. If we do not take part in politics we have no right to complain. Christ said: "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's." That means to do our duty in political affairs. He advocated the same measures that John the Baptist advocated regarding the Publicans when he said: "Do no more than is adapted to exact of them." The same advice is applicable now. "Many people are ashamed to be caught in politics," he said. "and think that all engaged in politics are corrupt. I don't think so."

The speaker paid a glowing tribute

That seemed to settle it, and the consregation had a social session for a half hour, when luncheon was served in the adjoining pariors by the following-named ladies: Mmes. Howard, Paxton, Upsoh, Ludwig, Pople, Rice, Rajston, Newcomb, and Misses Smith, Bacon, Myrick and Reese. The pariors and tables were nicely decorated for the occasion, and Rev. C. M. STREET PAVING CASE. The action upon a street assessment, wherein Albert Hadley sued J. O. Dague and the latter took an appeal, the Supreme Court has affirmed the judgment for plaintiff. The case involved the validity of the bonds for the paving of Main street between Ninth and Thirty-seventh streets. Dague didn't pay his assessment and suit was brought for its enforcement by a sale of the land.

The converse of this proposition is the truth. During Cleveland's second administration there were few strikes; workmen at that time were glad to secure half-time employment, even if they had to submit to a large reduction in wages. Manufacturers were running their milis at a loss, and the intelligent men at the head of labor organizations perceived that there was no use in striking, it

Public and private statistics and reports since the advent of the McKinjey administration prove that the prosperity predicted and promised by the Republican party arrived on schedule time. [SPECIALLY CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES.]

Never before within my business experience have so many workingmen enjoyed remunerative employment as at the present time. That occasional strikes are taking place does not weaken the force of this statement. The struggle of labor to better its condition is incessant and properly so. Generally the contest on the part of labor to secure better wages and working conditions is conducted without strikes, but sometimes strikes must come. The ordinance prohibiting these pub-

Deputy District Attorney Chambers, who is prosecuting the park case, argues to the court that the mistake is obviously only that of the printer, and offers to show by the books of the City Clerk that the ordinance was approved in April instead of March. He claims that it was obviously impossible for the law to have been approved a month before it was in existence to approve. T. M. Stewart, Esq., who appears for the defendant Eastman, and who sprang the technical point, claims, however, that the books of the clerk would not alter the validity of the ordinance, even if they showed that it had been properly signed and passed. His position is that the people are entitled to have accurate notice of the law, and that an error of publication renders the law invalid.

Pause says his wife has not only treated him shabbily, but has been false to him.

They were married in Chicago in 18%. At that time, Pause owned a fifteen-sare orange grove in Riverside, which in September he arranged to trade for the city property in question. When it came to making out the papers in the transaction, he says, his wife induced him with great protestations of love to have the ceed made out to her.

He yielded he avers, confident that she had been a good and faithful wife to him and that her promise was sincere to continue such, believing that she merely wanted the property to protect her and their future children in case of his death and to save administering upon his estate.

But now, he alleges, all her promises, protestations and representations were false and made to deceive him—which they did—her intent being to get control of the property and then abandon him. This, he alleges, she did on October I, when she is said to have begun living with one J. Franc. Pause also avers that for some months prior to September 18, the date of the conveyance, she had, unknown to him, been guilty of infidelity with this man France and that she did not love him as she protested.

Pause, therefore, asks the court to compel her to give him back his property.

One of the four lawyers found a hole in the law that Mr. Wilshire and six other spellbinders are accused of having violated.

Deputy District Attorney Chambers, that an error of publication renders the law invalid.

Justice Morgan conceded the point to be a serious one and took it under advisement, directing that the City Cierk be brought into court this morning with his books.

The law is also assailed on the ground that it is unconstitutional, being inharmonious with article I, section 10, which reads:

"The people shall have the right to freely assemble together to consult for the common good, to instruct their representatives, and to petition the Legislature for the redress of grievances."

Mr. Wilshire himself informed the court that the law was unconstitutional. He tried to present a demurrer in a pleasant, chatty way, withances."

time. What a contrast there is between the deadly blight of four years ago and the golden sunshine of today? Do the solid business interests of the country desire a return to the conditions of four years ago? Will thought full workingmen wish to see the mill gates closed and the vast machinery of manufacture at a standstill? If so, all they have to do is to elect Bryan and a Democratic Congress.

The "paramount" issue in this campaign is the silver question. Honesty is the best policy, both with individuals and nations, but this silver question is not a mere question of policy. It is a question affecting the national honor. If the people were to eastain Bryan's silver heresy our country would be disgraced in the eyes of the civilized world, and a financial and industrial panic would be precipitated. All business and commercial prosperity rest on confidence. The success of Bryanism would destroy all business confidence: business anarchy would follow.

Imperialism, as a paramount issue, is becoming day by day more ridiculous. I venture to predict that we will hear less of it as the campaign progresses. The Democrats have already discovered that their imperialistic propagands are doing them harm rather than good. This is particularly true in the West, and the result of the elections in Vermont and Maine demonstrates that there is no considerable body of nnti-expansion sentiment even in New England, where the disease started and at one time seemed to be making some progress. No one believes in imperialism, but every intelligent man understands that we are confronted in the Philippine Islands by responsibilities resulting from the Spanish war, from which we cannot run away without discredit and disgrace. The McKinley administration appears to be dealing with these responsibilities in a wise, patriotic and humane way, and I have no doubt that the Republican party on this issue will receive the indorsement of the people. Bryan has clearly demonstrated that he is not a man from whom he would undoubtedly make his cabine out bothering to write it out in a formal way, but the court declined to receive it so.

Later Mr. Wilshire thought better of it and employed Hugh J. Crawford, Esq., to represent him.

C. B. Langdon had counsel, but the remainder, E. Fletcher, G. A. Holden, C. M. Turner and John Clark, were not defended.

The following-named jurors were selected to try-the case, after two venires had been nearly exhausted: J. Wild, N. C. Woodman, George Albers, D. G., Stephens, G. W. Tubbe, J. W. Schultz, W. T. Rockefeller, W. S. Harbut, Stewart Allen, A. Possy, E. H. Stratton and M. Markham.

The courtroom was packed with people who sat patiently all through that monotonous procedure of selecting the jury. Among the spectators was "Lewis the Light," who poses as an acident preventer.

During the noon hour there was piaced on tap an imposing pile of pamphlets about trusts by H. Gaylord Wilshire.

Early in the afternoon Mr. Wilshire was arraigned before Justice Austin on another charge. of violating the park ordinance. His attorney asked that he be released on his own recognizance, but the court refused to make the order, fixing the ball at $40 cash or $100 bonds.

The Warner company is well pleased with the showing in its second well. Indications are that the hole will prove a good 100-barrel producer. No. 3 is down near the 200-foot mark.

Well No. 10 of the Home company is going down slowly. A boulder was encountered mear a depth of 100 feet, and this caused some trouble for a while. Indications are that well No. 9 will be a good one. It is now 500 feet. Well No. 8 is now yielding eighty barrels a day.

The New England company has a well in over 750 feet, with 11% casing. Three oil strata have been passed through.

The Raymond Oil Company, located on the south of section 25, will begin drilling this week.

Near the Raymond property the Whittier-Puente Oil Company's well No. 1 has been sent in to a depth of 100 feet. Well No. 4 of the same company is in 450 feet, with good indications.

Two more wells, Nos. 5 and 6, will be drilled by the Turner Oil Company.

Al derrick is being erected by the Murphy Oil Company for its seventh well.

Lamber is now on the sorund for well No. 5 of the Whittier Crude Oil Company.

The Whittier News says: "The idiosyncrasy of drilling for oil is well exemplified by the recent experiment of the Brea Cañon Oil Company doing business in the locality of that name. After putting down a well 1500 feet before striking oil, operations were moved to a point 150 feet from the first well and at a depth of 400 feet the pump was attached to a good flow of oil."

The Whittier Grand is erecting a rig on section 25.

JUDGE HENDRICK'S CANDIDACY.
To the voters of the Ninth Ward:
believing I had the right to aspire to a first term, and believing that Mr.
Blanchard did not have the moral right to aspire to a fourth term (because he and his friends led me and mine to understand two years ago, that I might reasonably hope for the nomination at this time, without opposition from him, if I would then get out of his way and serve a probationary term in the ranks of the Board of Education,) I announced myself some days ago as a candidate for the office of Councilman, subject to the decision of the Republican voters of the ward.

But since making that announcement
I have become satisfied that an organized combination of forces, both within and without the ward, has been effected, for the express purpose of renominating the incumbent, and that notwithstanding I have served my probationary term in the ranks, the promise of two years ago is to be disregarded, and that therefore it would be wholly futile for me or my friends to of No Piet at Paterson for the Asassination of Humbert.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—One of those examined by Supreme Court Commissioner Trimble in the course of the investigation into the alleged anarchistic plots in Paterson, N. J., which resulted, it is charged, in King Humbert's death, has been B. Masotti, who is reported to be usually the secretary of anarchists' meetings in that city. When questioned as to his testimony, he said:

"I told the commissioner that there were several anarchist organizations in Paterson, but they were divided on the question of killing the heads of governments, although as a rule they do not question the killing of kings as a matter of policy. The purpose of our organization is to advocate the abolition of all government restrictions and the substitution of individual liberty.

"When it comes to a matter of killing a ruler we are divided; some approve of it and some do not, because it is likely to throw discredit on us and our work. If an anarchist kills a king, he does so of his own volition, and this, I believe, was done in the case of King Humbert. I knew Bresci well, but I know of no plot being hatched here by him or any one else to kill Humbert."

A LEADING QUESTION.

EVENING SESSION.

Last night Dr. Warren F. Day preached from the text, "I understand more than the ancients."

"Progress," said Dr. Day, "is the law of life, and we ought to know more than those who have lived before us. All change, however, is not advancement, and there are those who in the name of progress are smiting progress to the heart. For the gospel there can be no substitute."

Rev. H. H. Wykoff, Pacific Coast secretary of the Congregational Church Building Society, pictured the promising future of the Coast, and appealed for a well-equipped Christian church to meet the great work opening up on these shores.

Rev. W. W. Ferrier, editor of The Pacific, which he says is the oldest paper published in California, made a plea to get it into the hands of every Congregationalist. It has been published continuously for forty-nine years. EVENING SESSION.

The Vossische Zeitung declares that the new statute is "economically and politically the worst law that has been enacted since the memory of man," and adds that "when it shall have completely failed of its purpose, the fault will not be that of the smaller merchants and their customers, but of the government which has enacted the law, and hastens to wash its hands of the results." "Moreover," remarks the Consul, "a large number of the smaller merchants fail to see how the new law, which simply taxes the large concerns I to 2 per cent. additional on their sales and turns the proceeds of such 'taxation over to the communal and city treasuries, is to help the middle-class merchants and their customers to unite and pay cash for their goods "hich they have heretofore bought and sold on credit. DOWNEY, Oct. S.—[Regular Correspondence.] The cement flumes built by the Arroyo Flume and Ditch Company last spring have proved to be such a success that others will undoubtedly be constructed along the ditches of the company's system, which embraces a large acreage in this vicinity. The company spent about $20,000 on the flumes built last spring. At the resular meeting of the directors today a proposition to spend $10,000 in extending the flumes was submitted. In the coment flumes there has been practically no trouble from obstructions caused by weeds and other articles as in the dirt ditches, and the loss by leakage through gopher holes and otherwise has been obviated. The water flows much faster and consequently there is less waste by evaporation. Before the wood flume was built along the main ditch a chip dropped in at the dam would take three hours in floating to the Santa Fé crossing. Now a chip will float over the same course in thirty minutes. The flow in the cement flumes is said to be even more rapid than in the wooden ones.

LOST ALL IN GALVESTON.

REDLANDS, Oct. 8.—[Regular Correspondence.] Joseph Mosso, formerly a resident of this city, returned today from Galveston. He was there at the time of the tornado and tidal wave and was one of the sufferers. He left here last May and bought a little place and put upon it some stock. The night of the disaster he saved his life by clinging to a telegraph pole. His clothing was torn from his body by the floating sticks and timbers, but he escaped serious injury. The next day he went to work removing and burying the dead. He kept at this until he was taken ill from the stench of decomposed bodies, when he was put in the hospital. He lost everything he had upon his place and returned to Redlands to work upon a ranch.

The walls are decorated with seventy-two varieties of palms, many of which are very rara. They are nearly all grown on the J. W. The plants include specimens of the Phoenix robelina, which is one of the Phoenix robelina, which is one of the Phoenix robelina, which is one of the Phoenix robelina, of which there is said to be no other specimen on the Pacific Coast. Others are the Cocos yatay in full fruit, Phoenix rupicola, yellow date of the Sahara, showing a bunch of matured fruit; Cocos schizophylia and Cocos alphonsil, a specimen of the edible Philodendron monstross deticloss, grown at the Mrs. J. S. Boynton home in Montecito, possesses much interest to horticulturists. The many on full fruit, the horse-radish tree, branches of a banyan tree, also attract attention. A fan palm leaf supporting two oriole nests which have been the home of young birds is a curiosity. A number of well-known local gardeners are in charge of placing the skibits. The fair will open at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

CEMETERY IMPROVEMENT.

LONG BEACH, Oct. 3.—[Regular Correspondence.] The City Trustees have taken steps to place the Long Beach Cemetery on a business basis. At the meeting of the board Monday evening Trustees Stephens and Caldwell were appointed to serve on a special committee for that purpose. The committee is to devise a scheme for the replatting of the burial ground and is to fix a schedule for the sale of lots.

The resignation of Trustee George D. Sanford, one of the minority members of the board, was presented, but action on it was deferred for a week. The City Attorney was instructed to draw an ordinance providing for the resmoval of obstructions from the sidewalks. It is said that the purpose of the measure is to prevent the occupation of the sidewalks with displays of riuit and other goods and to cause the removal of objectionable signs.

appetite. A little woman up at Pecketill, N. Y., Margaret Smith, P. O. Box 193, says:

Fil was such a sufferer from dyapopsia that life was a burden. I could hardly keep from eating all sorts of pastry, cakes, and other rich foods, although they did not agree with me, nor in fact did any sort of food. I become low spirited and discouraged; was too weak to work and very seriously troubled with palpitation of the heart.

"Drugs seemed to make me worse rather than better. A friend said one day: I believe Grape-Nuts food would cure you, explaining that that food was made with great care and intended for the prevention and relief of diseases that were brought about by improper food.

"That was Saturday night, and all day Sunday I kept thinking about Grape Nuts, and the first thing Monday morning I sent for a package. I had it in my mind that the food would look like nuts, and was disappointed when I found it had to be eaten with a spoon. However, I followed the directions and made a meal of Grape-Nuts and milk, which I found to be delicious, and for the first time in months, I suffered no distress after eating.

"I at once began to feel hopeful that I might be cured at last. Since that day I have used Grape-Nuts constantly, morning and night and have steadily improved in health, until now I am as well as I ever was in my life; weigh to pounds more than I did a year ago, have no palouitation of the heart and can work all day long.

"At supper I have Grape-Nuts mixed with soft-holled eggs. I make my dinner on any kind of food I desire. One of the best things about this cure by proper food is that I no longer have any desire for the rich, indigestible rubbish of which I used to be so fond."

Francisco lectured on "Lafe Value of the Art of Expression." Dr. F. B. Dresslar lectured on "The Teaching of History in the Grades."

This evening a literary and musical programme was given at the Academy of Music, complimentary to the teachers. Mrs. Ockenden read and the Euterpean Male Quartette of Los Angeles rendered numerous selections.

TALKED OF PEKING SIEGE.
CLAREMONT, Oct. 9.—[Regular Correspondence.] Dr. Ingram, who recently returned from China, and who experienced all the trying ordeals of the Peking siege, gave two talks on that subject in this place last Sunday.
The audiences were large, and the talks were very entertaining, because the speaker knew every inch of Giant Liner Oceanic Escapes Ship-wreck Only Through the Coolness of the Captain.

wreck Only Through the Coolness of the Captain.

IDT THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.I NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—A special cable from Queenstown to the Evening World says the giant White Star liner Oceanic which arrived here today had a narrow secape from shipwreck off the coast of Ireland.

While approaching the coast and trying to pick up the Fastnet light, what appeared to be a fog bank suddenly lifted and showed land dead ahead. The breakers could be plainly seen crashing on the rocks and the vessel touched bottom, but Capt Cameron immediately stopped his engines, reversed them and backed into deep water without the steamship being injured. It was only owing to the care of the captain that a terrible disaster was averted. The Oceanic was going slowly on account of the fog and trying to pick up the land.

It was 4 c'colck in the morning when the fog lifted and showed land right ahead, the position being between the rocks. The land was so close that on each bow could be seen a regular cave. The stopping of the engines shook up and awoke everybody.

Half a minute after the engines were reversed, and a little before the vessel was stopped, and struck with a grinding, grating noise. She then quickly swung clear. Tranquil and confident in the skill of the captain the women passengers in the saloon behaved admirably, showing the greatest coolness in the presence of danger.

The water-tight compartments were closed within two minutes on Capt. Cameron's orders as soon as the danger was perceived. The lifebots were cleared away ready for lowering with the precision of clockwork, and the crew were at quarters at once.
